1964 BROMELIAD LIST

We are pleased to present our latest listing of Bromeliads. The present list contains over 300 species and hybrids, and still does not contain all of our hybrids. These will be listed as they come into flower and we can describe their characteristics. Because of the great number of requests for an up-to-date list we have had to omit descriptions of all plants in the interest of saving time in the preparation of this list.

However, Bob and Catherine Wilson have written an excellent book - "BROMELIADS IN CULTIVATION" (Vol. I) which has descriptions of the species in the genera Abromeitiella through Greigia. Some hybrids are mentioned, and more will be covered in Volume II, as will the rest of the genera in the family. We have this book available at $6.50 plus 25¢ continental U.S. postage - or $1.00 for overseas mail (boat mail).

In addition to the most extensive Bromeliad list in America, we are also offering a few selected supplies for the Bromeliad grower -- pot hangers, tree-fern pots, shredded tree-fern, and plastic tubing for covering galvanized wire to prevent leaf-burn. These items are listed separately at the end of the plant list. Plants marked * are in short supply. Please write for available sizes before ordering.

We also have many plants in specimen sizes which are priced accordingly, but these plants are difficult to ship; we therefore make a packing charge, at cost, on such plants.

+ + + + + + + + + + + + + + + + + + +

These plants are exceptionally durable and stand shipping well - better than most plants; so, in order to save you money, we normally ship all bromeliads unpotted. If you are a novice with this group of plants, you will be interested to note that we include cultural directions with each shipment. Our stock of bromeliads is limited, so please don't be disappointed if certain items are not always available.
